REPORT OF EVENT

EVENT/ ACTIVITY: One Day Students' Seminar named 'Down the Ages: Tracing the Tapestry of the History of English Literature'

DATE: 16.02.2024

Organized by: Department of English, Domkal Girls' College

OBJECTIVES:

1. To prepare students for the component of 'Presentation Skills' in the syllabus of Major 101
2. To allow students to face an audience and address them publicly
3. To generate an awareness of the history of English literature and language
4. Working on developing LSRW skills of students

TARGET: Engaging the whole batch of First Semester students (Major 01) in giving presentations with technical support (PPT)

DESCRIPTION: On February 16, 2024, the Department of English, Domkal Girls' College organized a one-day Students' Seminar named 'Down the Ages: Tracing the Tapestry of the History of English Literature'. The seminar was part of Major 101 (Unit III: Presentation Skills). The panel comprised of two resource persons – Mr Partha Pratim Mandal & Head, Department of English, Berhampore Girls' College, and Dr Ikbal Ansary, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Berhampore Girls' College. The Convenor for the seminar was Ms. Fahmeeda Ghezaal Kazmi, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Domkal Girls' College.

The inaugural address was delivered by Dr Parantap Chakraborty, Head, Department of English, Domkal Girls' College, who underlined the need for students to read the history of English Literature to contextualize what they read in the course of graduation and beyond. This was followed by the session where students of Semester 1 made group presentations on various ages and stages of the history of English Literature and language. The groups were arranged in chronological order to facilitate a better understanding of the trajectory of thought and development of language and literature down the ages. The vote of thanks was delivered by Sahin Reja Mondal, Faculty (SACT-1), Department of English, Domkal Girls' College, who thanked the guests and also expressed gratitude to the Principal, Dr Alak Kumar Das, whose unconditional support and constant encouragement made the event possible.

S.W.O.C.:

Strength

- The Students' Seminar was a success as 63 students made 14 group presentations, where each participant spoke on one important aspect of the chosen age/period of English history.
- The students learned to make PPTs and use slide projection on a screen.
- The students gained the courage to face an audience and speak relevantly on a given topic.

Weakness

A few students found it difficult to speak in front of an audience for the first time.

Opportunity

- The students learned to make PPTs and use slide projection on a screen.
- The students gained the courage to face an audience and speak relevantly on a given topic.
- The students also got an opportunity to learn things outside the course.
- The Resource Persons gave valuable insights regarding the history of English Literature and Language.

Challenges

- Dealing with first-semester students, many of whom were speaking in public and/or making PPTs for the first time.
- Working on the diction of students.

REMARK: The seminar also had a special participant, Swastika Biswas, 6th Semester, Department of English, Berhampore Girls' College, who delivered a speech on reading the history of English Literature. The guests visited the library and the herbal garden and spent some time there.
